Senate Votes Continuation of Excise Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted today to continue the 10 per cent federal tax on local telephone, and telegraph service another year, preserving 462 million dollars of annual revenue.

The vote rejected the recommendation of the Senate Finance Committee that the taxes be allowed to die at the end of this month.

The outcome indicated that the Senate also would turn down the committee's proposal that the 10 per cent tax on train, bus and plane fares be taken off July 1. This was to be the next vote.

Repeal of this levy would cost 290 million dollars a year.

The Senate voted last year for immediate repeal of both the communications and travel taxes. In the conference with the House, the effective date of both provisions was changed to July 1, 1960, and it was decided to cut the travel excise only in half.

But a different climate prevailed this time. Opponents of any tax cut argued that a worsening international situation made it imperative to keep intact all of the Treasury's revenue sources.

Many Democrats also feared their party would be accused of fiscal irresponsibility if they voted for tax reductions after putting through many spending increases.

President Eisenhower had urged that the telephone and travel taxes be extended another year at the full 10 per cent rate, and the House accepted this.

The bill which the Senate is considering would extend four billion dollars worth of corporation income and excise levies to July 1, 1961, and would raise the national debt ceiling eight billion dollars a year.

Earlier Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) voiced "grave doubts" of the wisdom of pending Senate amendments to cut taxes by 750 million dollars.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.) voiced hope the Senate could complete action on the bill today, although he said he would oppose any unanimous consent agreements to limit debate.

The Pennsylvania is a leader in a bloc of Democrats seeking to add several amendments to the bill to increase revenue by closing what these senators describe as serious loopholes in the tax laws.

Their Democratic sponsors said they are needed to help pay for increased spending already voted by the Senate, and to offset Republican charges of fiscal irresponsibility.

The proposed changes were offered as amendments to a bill to continue present wartime rates on corporation income and excise taxes and to authorize a 293-billion-dollar national debt ceiling until July 1, 1961. Normally tax changes must originate in the House.

Sponsors said the changes they propose would raise about two billion dollars of additional revenue by plugging what they call loopholes in present tax law.

Among their proposals are amendments to repeal the 4 per cent tax credit on dividend income, to provide for income tax

Asks Court to Restudy Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alabama today asked the Supreme Court to reconsider its May 31 decision limiting to 3½ miles the state's rights to submerged lands in the Gulf of Mexico.

"The court should correct its own mistakes and not wait for Congress to do it," said a petition submitted by State Atty. Gen. MacDonald Gallion. "The petition for rehearing should be granted and three leagues (10½ statute miles) from coast (shoreline) decreed to Alabama."

The May 31 decision gave Texas and Florida rights to oil and other undersea resources 10½ miles from their Gulf shores.

But the court said borders of the other Gulf states—Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama—extend only 3½ miles.

The effect was to rule that the federal government owns oil resources worth hundreds of millions of dollars in submerged lands more than 3½ miles off the coasts of these states.

Court Strikes Down Laws on Injunctions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today struck down injunctions which halted Civil Rights Commission hearings in the South on Negro voting rights.

The high court's vote was 7-2, with dissents by Justices Douglas and Black.

Chief Justice Warren delivered the majority decision.

The decision threw out an injunction issued by a special three-judge federal court in Shreveport, La.

The special court ruled last October that 17 registrars in several Louisiana parishes did not have to appear at a commission hearing on complaints by Negroes who had been denied voting rights.

Traditional rights of the registrars were violated, the special court said, by commission rules which do not include prior information on the nature of the complaints and do not permit confrontation and cross-examination of witnesses.

The special court held that the law which created the commission was unconstitutional. But it said the commission's rules of procedure were not authorized by Congress.

Warren's 33-page opinion said that "the purely investigative nature of the commission's proceedings, the burden that the claimed rights would place upon those proceedings, and the traditional procedure of investigating agencies in general, leads us to conclude that the commission's rules of procedure comport with the requirements of due process."

Shots Fired in Window of Attorney

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Police said three pistol shots were fired into the front window of Amis Guthridge's law office early today.

No one was hurt.

Guthridge recently figured in a Pulaski County vice probe.

He charged syndicate-type vice existed, but the Pulaski County Grand Jury last Friday rebuffed these charges.

Police said an anonymous caller, apparently a man, telephoned headquarters at 2:33 a.m. and reported seeing someone at Guthridge's office.

Patrolman W. J. Harris went to the segregationist attorney's office, which is housed in a small building, and found three bullet holes in a front window glass.

Three bullets and two empty shells from a .32 caliber pistol were found by Harris and other officers.

Guthridge's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Guthridge, live in an apartment behind the law office. Mrs. Guthridge said she and her husband were asleep and that she heard no shots. She also said that neither her husband nor her father-in-law had been in the office during the night.

Mr. and Mrs. Amis Guthridge were away.

Amis Guthridge, who is running for attorney general against Pulaski Prosecutor J. Frank Holt, said he had received some threats. He said he thought they came from cranks and did not report them.

Reds Get Aid in Move to Oust Kishi

By DAY INOSHITA

TOKYO (AP) — Some leaders of Premier Nobusuke Kishi's conservative party today joined the leftists in a new, last-ditch fight to postpone the exchange of documents sealing Japan's new security pact with the United States.

The move put new pressures on the weary 64-year-old Premier who has been battling for weeks to maintain Japan's military links with America.

Kishi's ruling Liberal Democrats struck back early today with quick approval in Parliament's upper house to adjust present Japanese laws to conform with provisions in the new treaty.

The legislation caught the Socialist opposition by surprise. None was present when the voting took place. The Socialists and other opposition groups have been boycotting Parliament, but the Socialists had promised to wage a new fight against the legislation.

It appeared the action would spur the opposition to put new obstacles in Kishi's path.

Already confronting Kishi are a nationwide strike on Wednesday called by the Communist-influenced Sohyo Labor Federation, and new demonstrations planned by the fanatical Zengakuren Student Federation.

Four factional leaders in Kishi's party demand that he resign immediately, and put off the exchange of treaty documents with the United States pending the outcome of new general elections.

They were Ichiro Kono, Taken Miki, Kenzo Matsumura, and former Premier Tanzan Ishibashi.

They planned a two-fold attack—an appeal to the U.S. Senate to withhold its own ratification, and a request for support from the powerful middle rank factions in the Liberal Democrat party.

The middle factions are headed by Hayato Ikeda, minister of international trade and industry, and party leaders Banboku Ono and Mitsuhiro Ishii.

These factions, together with Kishi's loyal following, make up the muscle of the conservative alignment.

It appeared unlikely that the three leaders would heed the plea to desert Kishi. But any change in allegiance would make Kishi's position even tougher than it is now, although there appeared to be no way he could be forced out of office immediately if he stood his ground.

The security treaty was ratified automatically at midnight Saturday despite the agonizing pressure of continued Communist-led demonstrations and violence.

Property Is Assessed at 16 Per Cent

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Real property in Arkansas was assessed at an average of 16.57 per cent of its evaluation last year, according to a report by the Missouri-Arkansas Assn. of Tax Representatives.

The findings were based on the sale of 21,075 pieces of property for a total of $120,808,234. The study did not include utility property, which is assessed at 20 per cent.

The figures varied from some released last year by the Arkansas Assessment Coordination Division. The ACD said all counties but Drew were above the 16 per cent mark, but the ACD figures included utility assessments.

The Missouri-Arkansas Assn. report showed that only Monroe and Bradley Co., assessed property at above the 20 per cent level. Sharp, Madison and Lincoln counties were below 10 per cent, it said.

The assessments were said to range from a high of 21.54 per cent in Monroe County to a low of 7.41 per cent in Sharp. City property was assessed at an average of 17.59 per cent and rural land at 14.8 per cent, according to the report.

The report said 44 counties had ratios lower than the state average of 16.57 and 31 counties had ratios higher than that level.

A Quarter Million Is Missing

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — An estimated quarter of a million dollars worth of cash and checks was stolen from the vault of the State Motor Vehicles Department early today.

Motor Vehicles Commissioner J. Marshall Holcomb made the loss estimate about 5½ hours after the break-in was discovered.

Although they looked about a dozen cash lockers in the vault, the thieves did not get into the main safe, which contained more than a quarter of a million dollars. There was no evidence that they even tried.

The robbery apparently occurred sometime after midnight. A department communications employee who checks State Police inquiries on vehicle registrations, was on duty until that time.

Chairman James M. Altman of the State Insurance Board said the department was covered by $300,000 insurance on the vault and another $300,000 on the safe. Coverage is higher at this time of year than normally because of the annual automobile license rush.

The license rush was responsible for the large amount of money on hand in the lockers, where cashiers deposit their receipts at the end of the day.

Apparently Southland Farms, Inc., a subsidiary of Corn Belt Hatcheries, has purchased the Hope Locker and Processing Plant on South Main Street.

Plant Board Plans a Public Hearing

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Plant Board will hold a public hearing Friday on proposed regulations on crop-dusting with deleterious or economic poisons.

The proposals were drafted after complaints from rice and fish farmers. Most of the rules deal with crop dusting within a half mile of rice and fish farms.

One would prohibit any crop-dusting when wind velocity is more than five miles per hour.

It also would require that all dusting be done from no higher than 20 feet above the tops of the plants.

Another proposal would prohibit dusting with cyanamid, dieldrin or calcium arsenate within half a mile of rice fields between the first appearance of heads and the rice harvest.

A third rule would prohibit dusting with toxaphene, benzene hexachloride, DDT, aldrin, dieldrin or heptachlor within a half mile of fish farms at any time.

Seven weekend deaths boosted to 12 the number of persons who died violently in Arkansas during the week ending at midnight Sunday.

Seven persons died in traffic accidents, one each by shooting, accidental electrocution, drowning and one each in a mine accident and a tractor accident.

No Action on U.S. Base, Says Castro

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro declared today Cuba will take no action against the U.S. Guantanamo naval base in eastern Cuba.

"Some day it will be returned to us," said Prime Minister Fidel Castro's younger brother in a post-midnight speech, "but let's make clear that aggression will not come from us."

Castro, who is minister of Cuba's armed forces, told a youth rally that the Guantanamo base was obsolete in terms of modern warfare and would serve no useful purpose in any future conflict.

Castro said the invincibility of American imperialism is a myth rapidly being destroyed by the Cuban revolution. This imperialism, he said, was represented by a "scabby, lice-ridden eagle whose talons are worn by plunder committed against our people."

"While the Cuban revolution gains in prestige," Castro declared, "the eagle loses feathers. If it once flew high, now it flies low and tomorrow it will drag itself along the ground."

Shouts of approval greeted Castro's diatribe against the United States.

Coroner John P. Magee ruled the congressman died of "reaction to carbon monoxide poisoning self-administered."

Reform Rule Promises Not to Waste Aid

By JOHN SCALI

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — President Eisenhower left South Korea for Honolulu tonight, completing a Far Eastern tour on which he was cheered by millions of Asians but forced to bypass Japan because of left-wing rioting there.

Eisenhower left with a pledge from South Korea's reform government to guard against wasting the hundreds of millions of dollars in aid the United States pours in each year.

"I pledge that we will do everything possible to insure that American aid funds are wisely, efficiently and honestly used for the benefit of all the Korean people," Prime Minister Yuh Chung declared in his parting words to Eisenhower at Seoul International Airport.

Wildly cheered by one million Koreans who blocked his motorcade Sunday and by hundreds of thousands more on Monday, Eisenhower on departure said it was a "memorable experience" to see "so many Korean people along the routes of travel I have followed."

In all, nearly three million Filipinos, Chinese Nationalists on Formosa, Okinawans and Koreans welcomed the first American president to tour the Orient while in office. A three-day visit to Japan was called off when the Japanese government said it could not fully guarantee Eisenhower's safety because of violent left-wing rioting in Tokyo.

The only anti-American demonstration Eisenhower actually saw was on Okinawa, where 1,500 pro-Japanese chanted "go home" and "snake-dance."

Eisenhower urged leaders of the new South Korean government to make the most of their opportunity to give the Communist-threatened land true democracy. Referring to the revolt against Syngman Rhee and his strongman rule, he said "prompt and judicious fulfillment of the recently expressed wishes of the Korean people is a momentous challenge."

In his final speeches, Eisenhower hoped hard at what he called the imperative need of more freedom and opportunity for Koreans who two months ago overthrew Syngman Rhee's strongman regime.

"The prompt and judicious fulfillment of the recently expressed wishes of the Korean people is a momentous challenge," he said in an address before a packed session of the Korean National Assembly. Eisenhower received a thunderous two-minute ovation when he entered the assembly hall.

Koreans of every rank roared their approval of Eisenhower at every turn again today.

A million friendly Koreans turned out Sunday to give the president a welcome so frenzied that a tender of his bubbleton limousine was dented. Security agents ordered a detour to prevent Eisenhower from being mobbed by admirers.

It was a sharp contrast to the heckling from 1,500 screaming, snake-dancing, pro-Japanese demonstrators who competed with an otherwise friendly throng of 150,000 Okinawans during the President's brief stopover on the U.S. base island earlier Sunday.

Eisenhower, in what amounted to a lecture told South Korea's tamered legislators they must not only talk democracy but buttress it with a free press, public education and a fairly elected National Assembly.

The 22-man chamber has agreed to dissolve itself next month just before new nationwide

Trading was heavy as a number of speculative issues made wild moves to the plus or minus side.

For the general run of key stocks gains and losses ran from fractions to a point or so.

Airlines, spurred by news of a fare boost which would raise revenues an estimated $84,000,000 a year advanced 1 or 2 points.

Nati, which advanced 12 points last week, dropped 5 to 59 1/2 on a delayed opening block of 17,500 shares.

Wall Street was a welter of reports and comments which affected a broad spectrum of specific issues. International Business Machines fell about 7 points as a financial journal commented that rival producers aim to chip away IBM's big lead in computers.

Radio Corp., which lost 4 1/2 Friday, dropped more than a point. The news was out that it is considering calling an issue of convertible debentures as a means of encouraging their conversation into common stock.

Senate Votes

 withholding on dividend income, to cut the oil and gas depletion allowance, and to limit the entertainment items which taxpayers now can deduct as business expenses.
 The Senate wrangled about the tax measure through a 10-hour session Saturday but succeeded in reaching only one vote. In two 14-hour marathons Thursday and Friday it had disposed of six major pieces of legislation.
 Several Democrats had urged Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) not to bring the bill up Saturday. They asked that a party conference be held first to try to develop a policy to counter Republican charges of fiscal irresponsibility.
 These charges, they said, would be hard to answer unless some revenue-raising measures were advanced in view of higher spending figures voted by the Senate last week.
 These included a one-billion-dollar increase over President Eisenhower's budget for military spending, a similar 465-million-dollar increase in a health funds appropriations bill, and a 750-million-dollar federal pay raise not included in Eisenhower's budget.
 In addition, the Senate Finance Committee recommended 750 million dollars of tax cuts in the pending tax extension-debt ceiling measure. These would repeal excise taxes on local telephone service, telegrams and travel tickets.
 However, Johnson said that the Senate was running out of time with the Democratic National Convention opening three weeks from today and that he could not delay important legislation.

Pilots Back on Job for Eastern Line
 NEW YORK (AP)—Eastern Air Lines pilots returned to work at some points today, but operations still were limited. Pan American World Airways had trouble manning its flights.
 For Eastern, a 10-day stoppage of pilots appeared to be tapering off.
 The airline said previously idle crews had checked in for duty at Boston, New Orleans, Atlanta and Chicago. However, flight schedules still were crippled in New York and Miami.
 Pan Am was hit by a related problem, with 115 of its pilots calling in sick. The company said it was uncertain how many of its regular flights would take off on schedule.
 The action against Pan Am began Friday, with a wave of "sick" reports among pilots. Eighty-two were out Sunday.
 A third airline, National, faced the threat of a strike Tuesday night in a dispute with the Air Line Pilots Assn. over wages and working conditions.

All Admit Old Casey Doing Wonderful Job

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nobody is predicting a New York pennant this early in the race but even the most rabid anti-Yankee rooters must admit that Casey Stengel is doing a "terrific" job of managing this year, to use the Ol' Professor's favorite word.

While younger and more agile field leaders are getting the axe, the 70-year-old reformed dentist is perhaps doing his best job of mandoming in his 13 years at the Yankee helm. And don't forget, he's won nine New York flags.

Today he has his team on top of the heap, three percentage points above Baltimore, after leading the Yankees to a pair of 7-5 and 5-3 victories over the Chicago White Sox Sunday. The twin triumphs gave the Yankees a run of seven straight over the defending champions and 11 victories in 12 games since Stengel left a sick bed to resume charge.

The Yankees needed those two victories to stay in front because Baltimore got shutout pitching from Hoyt Wilhelm and Milt Pappas to defeat Detroit twice, 2-0 and 1-0. Boston's last-place Red Sox stunned Cleveland with a 7-1 and 3-2 sweep of their double-header and Washington made it three straight over Kansas City, 6-5.

Los Angeles snapped Pittsburgh's five-game winning streak, 8-6, but the Pirates retained their four-game lead in the National League as Philadelphia nipped San Francisco 2-1 in 11 innings.

Cincinnati took two from Chicago's Cubs 4-3 and 7-5 while St. Louis and Milwaukee split. The Cards won the opener 4-3 and the Reds took the nightcap 3-2.

Jim Coates, whose mere presence on the mound seems to inspire the Yankee hitters, turned in his eighth victory without a defeat as his mates shelled Buck Shaw with four runs in the fifth and bombarded reliever Dick Donovan with three more in the sixth of the opener. The lean right-hander has a two-year winning streak of 12 games.

Johnny James, a relief pitcher was credited with the second victory. Mickey Mantle's sixth-inning triple drove in the tying run and Roger Maris' single scored the Yankee center fielder with whom proved to be the deciding tally before 48,139, largest Comiskey Stadium crowd since July 14, 1957. Minnie Minoso's two homers went to waste.

Wilhelm and Pappas handied the Tigers to five singles. Hoyt allowed only two in the opener to win his fourth game and Pappas gave up three to notch his fifth. Homers by rookies Jim Gentile and Ronnie Hansen spelled defeat for Jim Manning. Brooks Robinson's sacrifice fly following singles by Walt Dropo and Gus Triandos in the ninth, ruined Don Mossi in the nightcap.

Ted Williams boomed his ninth homer of the season and 501st of his career, with two on, to provide the big blow in Boston's first game triumph over Cleveland. Bill Monbouquette, with a four-bitter gained his sixth victory. Gary Geiger's two-run triple and Don Buddin's homer provided Tom Brewer with his fifth victory in the nightcap.

Rookie outfielder Dan Doherty collected a pair of singles, drove in two runs and scored another to lead Washington to victory over Kansas City. Don Lee, with relief help from Chuck Stohls and Pete Ramos, won his third in four decisions.

Little Rock Youth Wears Golf Crown

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) —M. C. Methvin Jr., nineteen-year-old Little Rock golfer, wears the Arkansas amateur golf crown today, the result of below-par golf which defeated Tony Mercanti of Texarkana yesterday.

The 33-year-old Meredith, the medalist in the 1960 tournament, kept up with Methvin on yesterday's morning round, but fell behind in the afternoon round to lose 6 and 5.

Methvin ended the first 18 holes with 73, one above par, and one up on Meredith, who had 74.

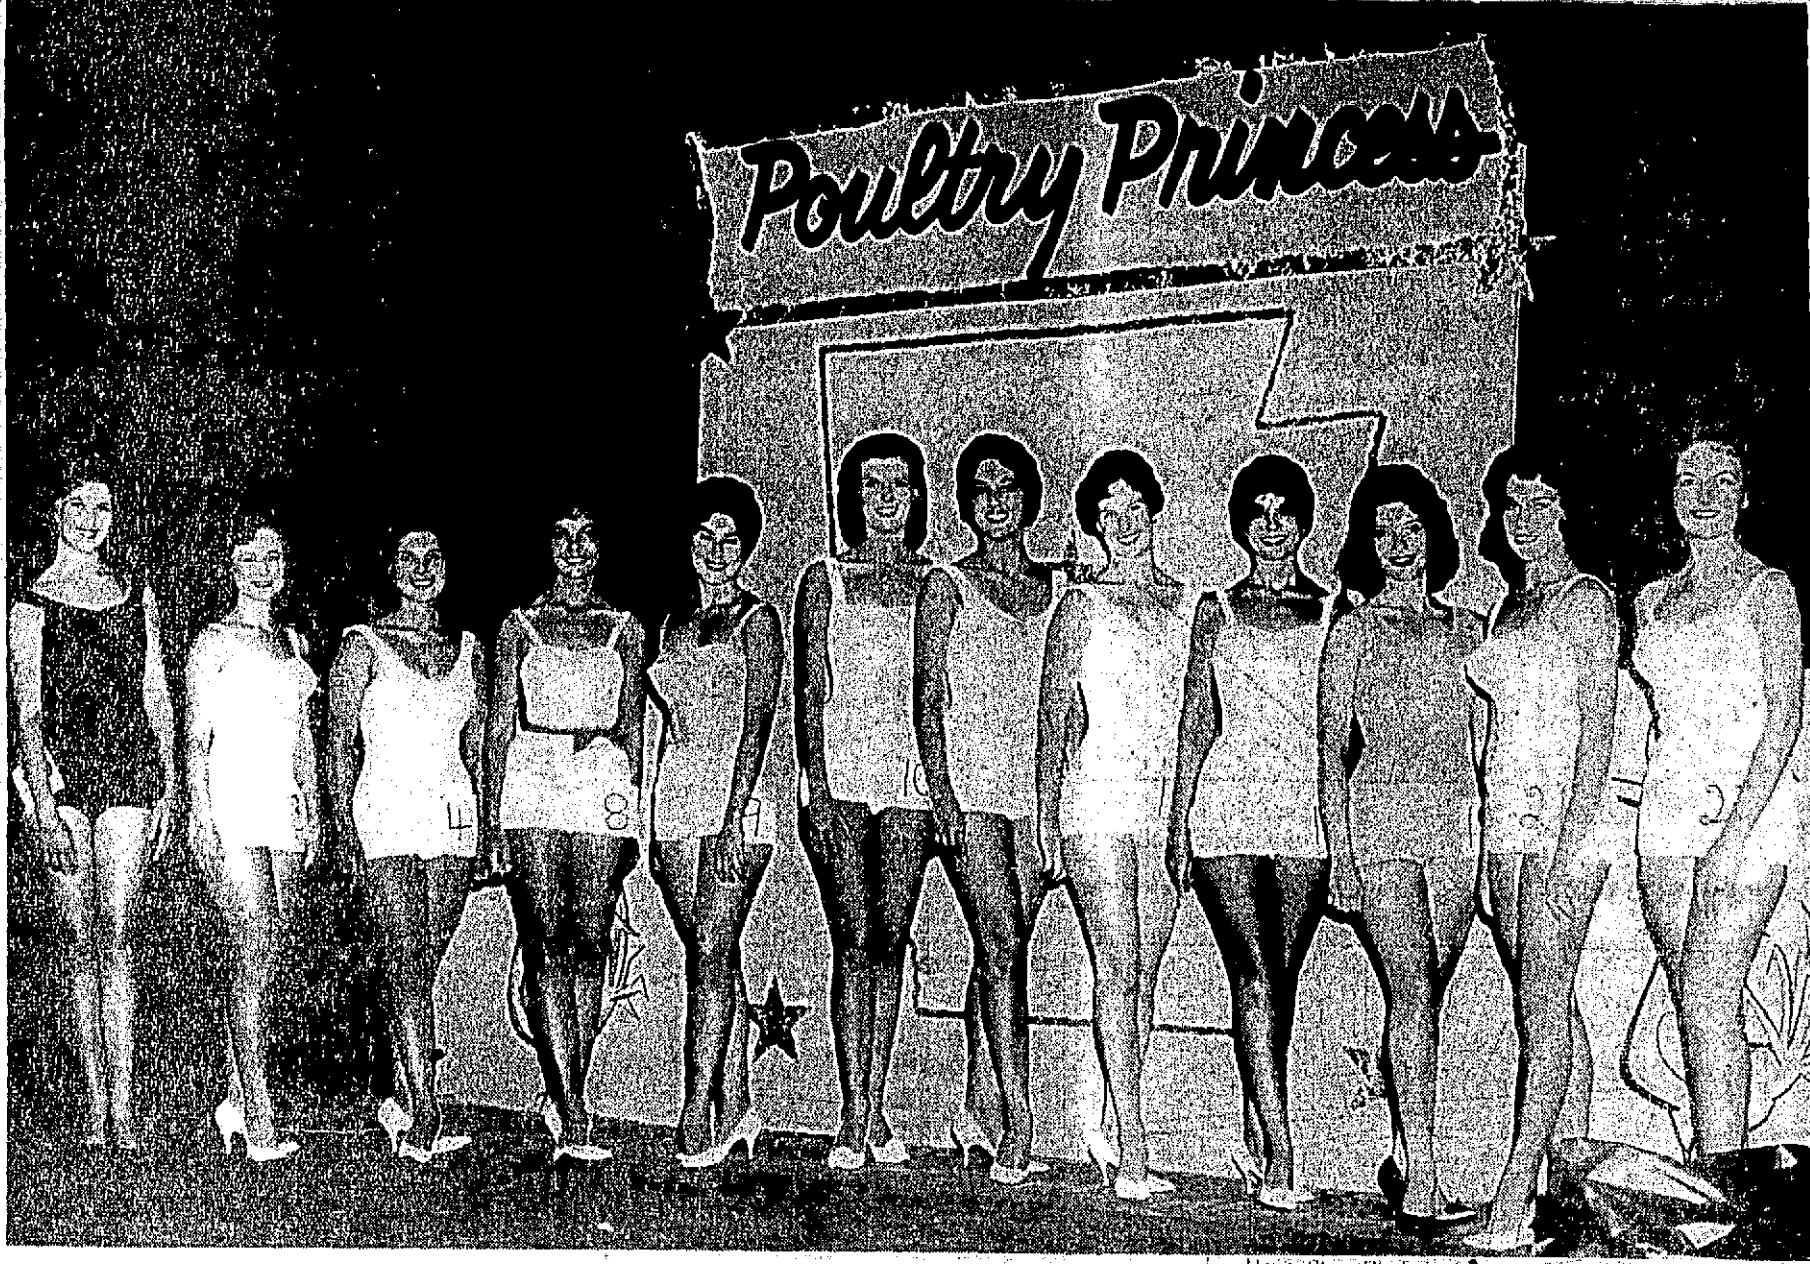

The younger man won the first three holes of the afternoon round, though, to take a commanding lead.

Meredith lost the 27th hole to go into the final nine four down. He won a hole, then lost one and the two men halved a hole before Methvin's par three on the 31st hole closed out the match.

Methvin played the final 22 holes without a bogey and was three under par for the 13 holes played in the afternoon.

Methvin succeeds Tom Rancey, also of Little Rock, who turned professional after his 1959 state title victory and could not compete this year.

HARD PURSUED

CHAPTER XXXIX
The story came in little gasps which had to be fitted together. Something about Dorcas and a fight over a letter and Pru fleeing with the letter, hoping to find Granville Cross here at Hatchel. Suddenly Buckner understood. "Duke's confession!" he said. "You fought Dorcas for it? You did that for my sake?" He was overwhelmed by this and touched as not even Duke's telling him of the letter had touched him. He held her closer.

She had pressed her face against his shoulder, and her voice came muffled. "I missed Granville," she said. "There's nobody here but the cook. I managed to get it out of him that Granville had come, found Tull and the crew gone, and so gone on about other errands. I-I didn't know what to do. And then you came."

He released her and took her by the hand and led her to a flat outcropping of rock. "Sit down," he said gently; and when she did, he seated himself beside her. She took the letter from her coat and handed it to him. "Better you keep this till we can get it to Granville," she said.

He stowed the letter in a pocket. Now it was his turn to talk, and he told her most of what had happened since he had left her at the Brewster place the day before. He recounted this as quickly as he could, sketching in the events.

"Let me try to talk it out," he said. "I'll will straighten my thinking. Now just what is it that Spence has on his conscience that's going to keep troubling him till Duke's dead and the matter is closed?"

"Something to do with Lark's death," she ventured. "It just about has to be that," he said. "Now let's go back to what I overlooked early last night when I hid outside Hatchel's camp. Spence and Sam Tull talked as partners. They've been meeting on the sly for about a year, I gathered; and from their secret talks came a partnership, put down on paper but not yet signed and sealed. Spence and Lark hated each other, remember; yet as Lark's long relative, Spence stood to inherit Hatchel if anything happened to Lark. Looks like Spence and Sam Tull made a deal. Get Lark out of the way and Spence would own Hatchel, and Sam Tull was to be cut in for half, for helping."

"I see what you're getting at!" Pru interjected, excited. "You're thinking that Duke perhaps only wounded Lark and then ran for it, thinking Lark dead. And that, Tull, seeing opportunity, finished the job."

He nodded. "Tull could have told the Hatchel crew the same story he carried to the sheriff—that Duke had done for Lark. The crew certainly wasn't in on the plot—Tull and Spence were careful last night to be out of earshot of the others when they did their talking. To Spence, Tull had probably told the truth of what happened to Lark, the better to lay claim to what Spence had promised for helping. And from there on, Spence and Tull had had to act as though Duke was the killer."

She sighed. "Interesting guesswork, Ry. But it's only guesswork."

"I know," he said. "But there's one more point. Last night Tull told Rigby that maybe he, Tull, had learned a few tricks from Spence about fancy scheming. He hinted that he might have an ace in the hole to use against Spence. Later that night, somebody shot Tull. Not me and not Duke; and Guley wasn't at the right place to have had the chance, and neither was Dorcas, nor McQueen, likely. That bolts it down to Spence Rigby. One bullet in Tull's back and Spence got both halves of Hatchel."

Title Fight Tonight in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Ingemar Johansson, the heavyweight champion from Sweden, weighed 194 pounds to 199 for challenger Floyd Patterson of Rockville Center, N.Y., for their return, 15-round title fight in the Polo Grounds tonight. Johansson weighed 196 pounds to Patterson's 182 last June 26 when he dethroned the American on a seven-knockdown, technical knockout at 2:03 of the third round. Patterson's weight was the heaviest of his career. He weighed 187 1/2 when he knocked out Olympic champion Pete Rademacher in the sixth round at Seattle, Aug. 22, 1957. Most of the 25-year-old challenger's extra weight appeared to have settled around his neck, shoulders and arms. He said the weight had come on naturally but there was no doubt he hoped to add power to his punches with the added poundage.
